
Continue

Inside out movie clips

The first scene in a movie is the hook. It rolls you in and convinces you to spend the next, two or even three hours of your life going down the rabbit hole in the imagined world of the film director. But arguably the most memorable — even more than a sex scene — is the final scene of a film. It's the last impression you have and can leave you with a lingering feeling of wanting more. And it can completely change your viewing experience. It may also be the best scene in a movie for that very reason. Whether it's because of an iconic song or a total plot twist, all of these movies left us both completely happy but also hungry for more. Each of these 17 films saved the best for last. Warning: This slideshow contains spoilers. I mean, obviously, it's the last scene in the movie, guys. But they are so good, you can honestly know the end and still by enjoying the whole movie over and over again. Trust me on this.

ultrasound scan report abbreviations , aab7ffd9c5c75.pdf , normal_5fa121c5b43bd.pdf , normal_5fc324e21e25d.pdf , lisa quinn obituary , normal_5fd147784adf8.pdf , normal_5f9df7a520e26.pdf , summer esl worksheets free , normal_5fc3cf5da118b.pdf , 385455.pdf , free jeopardy game template powerpoint , this guy gif , modeling chocolate bear ,